More FAQs about Personalised Interest Rates

What is a Personalised Interest Rate?

A personalised interest rate is the rate we offer you from within the range of rates available on Low Rate credit cards, currently 10.99% p.a. to 15.99% p.a.[5] The rate you're offered depends on a number of factors including your individual credit risk score and the information we have about you as an existing customer. Other considerations may also apply.

What is a credit risk score?

Your individual credit risk score is a number that reflects our internal assessment of your credit worthiness, such as your ability to repay your bills on time. If you have a high credit risk score, this means you're rated as being more likely to pay back a loan on time.

Will my personalised interest rate change?

The personalised rate will be reviewed periodically and may change upon review. Where your personalised interest rate changes you will be notified of the change as agreed in your Conditions of Use.
